WHY DIGLESS

Iroquois Fence is now proud to install all of our fence products utilizing a revolutionary new approach...DIGLESS FENCE INSTALLATION!

The search for a better installation method has been ongoing for years. The days of digging holes, and setting posts in concrete, are a thing of the past. No more dirt piles to clean up, no more mud and damage due to excavation equipment, no more long installation timeframes.

We have always known that driving chain link posts, deep into the Earth, was an extremely strong, and cost effective, installation method. The issue was how to drive aluminum posts, without damaging the posts, with the same strength and durability. The answer...the aluminum NO DIG POST INSERT!

Thanks to this exciting new product, not only do we have a way to drive aluminum posts deep into the Earth, but we now have internal post support above the surface (which is lacking in traditional concrete installation). A new system which is 10x stronger than traditional aluminum fence, creates no mess during the installation process, and has quicker installation times.

This revolutionary product is changing the aluminum fence world and we are very confident and proud to offer it to you! As for a digless solution, to a wood privacy fence installation, the answer is heavy duty commercial grade galvanized steel posts. Solid fence is more at risk for leaning than chain link or aluminum. This potential problem has always been combated with solid wood posts set in concrete foundations. The one major flaw...most wood posts will decay and break way before the life expectancy of your wood fence has been reached. Utilizing heavy duty commercial grade galvanized steel posts solves this problem. When driven deep (4' minimum), the chance of heave or lean is minimal. Using heavy duty pipe also virtually eliminates the chance that the posts will bend in high, gusty winds. And the best part, no more broken posts!

The Iroquois Fence DIGLESS FENCE INSTALLATION method will ensure that your new fence, no matter the material, will be beautiful and strong, with minimal installation mess.
